We were quite anxious when our son started at KLB. He joined last minute after being on the waiting list after struggling to find a suitable place. We didn't get the usual transition sessions so our son found the sudden change very difficult. The SEND team worked closely with us right from the start, looking to do everything they could to ensure he remained at the school but talking to us honestly about what might happen. It has been a rocky road of exclusions and issues but the school has put in an amazing amount of effort for which we are so very grateful. We have seen good improvement but there is still a long way to go and we look forward to working with the school going forward.
